Jumping Green Things heading for Potsdam

Assorted Nuts Animation Studios feature film animation project Jumping Green Things has been selected to participate in the 2003 CARTOON MOVIE in Potsdam, Germany.

Cartoon Movie is a co-production forum where European producers can negotiate financing of their feature-length projects and provide support to international cooperation.

Jumping Green Things will participate in the "film in concept" category.

In a strange and wondrous world live the Jumping Green Things whose peaceful existence becomes threatened when the village's only defense, The Great Rock of Green, is stolen. To save their way of life, three reluctant "volunteers" are chosen to go on a quest to recover the Great Rock.

A long way from home and faced with danger, Meany, Tiny and Whiny are forced to rely on their courage, friendship and ingenuity if they are to save their village.

Jumping Green Things is a dramatic and compelling tale of adventure, courage and the journey into friendship.
